

Dear Valued Partner,

At Eco Finishing Co., we are committed to making our employees' lives easier and healthier. We care deeply about the community we work with and live in and believe that by working together with our employees, customers and suppliers, we can all assist in helping our communities as the Coronavirus (COVID-19) situation continues to evolve.

With the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommendations being the source of information we rely on for guidance, Eco Finishing Co. remains focused on a proactive approach in the event of an outbreak. We continue to closely monitor the developments around the Coronavirus for any potential impact to our employees and business.

We are constantly monitoring our supply chain and no availability issues are expected with production supplies used in our process. Therefore, we anticipate no disruptions that may affect our deliveries and promised dates. We will promptly notify you in case the situation changes.

Apart from increasing sanitizing and preventive measures, employee education, travel reduction, etc., we need your cooperation to have a combined effort to eradicate this threat. Therefore, effective immediately, we will restrict access of all visitors to our facilities.

Our Shipping Dept. will diligently continue to receive and ship goods, but we will require all drivers and company representatives to stay in a designated area, minimizing their presence in and around our facilities and their interaction with our employees.

We count on your support as we take these precautions to protect the health and well-being of our main partners: employees, vendors, customers and community in general.

Sincerely,

Carlos A. Xifra
President
